

In the past, Christoph has suggested that people with this problem should look at Chem-Hist messages archive:

<https://www-mailman.uni-regensburg.de/pipermail/chem-hist/>

From this page you can go to the messages for September:

<https://www-mailman.uni-regensburg.de/pipermail/chem-hist/2022-September/date.html>

Including the one by Frank James on 12th September which provoked this query:

<https://www-mailman.uni-regensburg.de/pipermail/chem-hist/2022-September/001928.html>

Perhaps this is the best way to always see the messages if you have this problem, which actually I rarely have.

Best wishes,

Peter
